

(Pages : 2)

C – 4413

Reg. No. : .....

Name : .....

Second Semester LL.M. Degree Examination, July 2017
Branch – CONSTITUTIONAL LAW
Paper – I : Constitutional Principles

Time : 3 Hours

Max. Marks : 75

- Instructions : 1) Answer all questions.
2) All questions carry equal marks.

I. a) Examine the concept of Sovereignty and find out the impact of new economic policy on that. Are we forced to accept the Pluralistic theory of State ?

OR

b) Do you believe in indivisibility of sovereignty ? Substantiate.

II. a) What are the essential requirements of an ideal Constitution. Is it a myth or reality ?

OR

b) Analyse the principle of Constitutionalism. How does it check arbitrariness and ensure limited government ?

III. a) Elucidate the attributes of Separation of Powers. Justify the constitutional acceptance of Judicial Review in a country which considers separation of powers as one of the basic structures of the Constitution.

OR

b) Do you find any drawbacks in the Parliamentary form of Government prevailing in India ? Substantiate.

P.T.O.

C – 4413

IV. a) Examine the Constitutional basis of Affirmative action in India. Cite relevant decisions.

OR

b) Fundamental freedoms are subject to reasonable restrictions and reasonableness of restriction is subject to judicial review. Comment.

V. a) Examine the incorporation of human rights into the Indian Constitution. Highlight the role of Judiciary in protecting those basic human rights.

OR

b) State is neither religious nor anti religious but irreligious. Substantiate the statement considering the present day political scenario in India.

---